PHO[TO-BE]RLIN

pho[to-Be]rlin, a new photographic project based on the city of Berlin, consists both of a series of in-depth workshops on a number of issues related to the city and of open lectures held by award-winning international photo-reporters.

"Ten photographers in front of a sole subject will produce ten different images, because if it's true that photography reproduce reality, it is revealed depending of the eye of the observer"
Gisele Freund
